GOINGS ON IN FLORIDA

A vegetable basket factory is to be established at Williston.
Even Dayton had a labor day parade with over 300 men, white and black, in line.

Tampa will make an effort to get into the South Atlantic base ball league next season.

The Jacksonville base ball club now has secured hold on fourth place, with a downward tendency.

Geo. P. Colby, a spook artist of Deland, is lecturing on spiritism at private houses in that town.

The special edition of the Times-Union has reached Yalaha and the natives are greatly delighted.

The vestry of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Key West has decided to build a church college in that city.

A bartender at the Tampa Bay hotel has been arrested for and has confessed to, stealing wines and whiskey.

Burglars broke into the depot at Williston last Friday night and stole several railway mileage books and other tickets.

The "wet" and "dry" election in Hamilton county last Tuesday resulted in a victory for the "drys" by a majority of 176.

Maime McDonald, white, well-known character of Jacksonville, tired of a life of sin, committed suicide in her room last Tuesday.

Publicspirited citizens of Jacksonville are agitating the question of bonding the county to build good hard roads throughout the county.

The contract for the new Episcopal church house at Gainesville has been let to Robt. McCarroll of Jacksonville for $9,500. The church will be of stone.

The Jacksonville Metropolis announces that it will shortly add a new feature that will excite the admiration of its readers. Something is badly needed in this line.

Dr. Hitley the new president of Stetson University expects to leave New York for Deland with his family on the 20th, and on arrival will occupy the president's residence. The University will open on the 26th inst.

Gen. Allen Thomas, aged defeated candidate for Adjutant General in the late primary, was thrown from his buggy at Tampa on Monday and had his collar bone broken. He was otherwise injured. Mrs. Thomas, who was with him, was also thrown out but escaped injury.

D. L. Landress of Ellithorpe, five miles from Gainesville, encountered a wild cat while returning home late one night last week. With wonderful presence of mind he grabbed a piece of pine sapling and beat the cat off. He had no gun. What luck to find the sapling cudge so handy.

C. R. Ammons a collector of Jacksonville is playing in hard luck. He had only recovered from a broken leg when he was nearly mauled to death Tuesday by three irate negro women from whom he tried to collect a bill. He may be a good collector but he never would do in the diplomatic service.

Senator Charles Monroe Brown of Ocala has announced his determination not to move to Miami until after his term of office as senator from Marion county has expired. This announcement should reassure the people of the state, who were fearful that they should lose his valuable services in the next legislature.

Hon. Frank Clark, candidate for congress in the second district, is going as a special observer of democracy to the Maine woods. He leaves on the 15th inst. He will make democratic votes among those Maine cracklers if anybody can. Next week Mr. Clark will address the state turpentine convention.

A house in Jacksonville occupied by two objectionable colored women was blown up by dynamite on Monday night. The house was ruined, but it was too late for the women, who were uninjured. A colored man who had a grudge against the women is suspected. The explosion was heard all over Jacksonville. The women were in bed at the time.

Martin J. Heade, artist and writer of St. Augustine, died on Sunday last. Mr. Heade has maintained a studio in St. Augustine for the past 15 years, and this was his last winter by hundreds of winter visitors. His specialty was the painting of flowers and birds. He was 65 years of age. He was a regular contributor to Forest and Stream, the well-known sportsman's journal.

Wash Bradley, a negro turpentine operator of Levy county, has been lynched by a mob for the murder of Mrs. N. B. Barrow, a highly respectable lady, last Friday. He was caught and turned over to the authorities by two negroes who notified the woman's husband. He shot off both the negro's arms, then the mob hanged him to a tree and riddled his body with bullets.

N. W. Eppes, a prominent planter and superintendent of schools in Leon county, whose home is about nine miles from Tallahassee, was assassinated on Saturday night last as he was driving over a lonely piece of road on his way home. The assassin had stepped up to within a few feet of his victim and discharged a load of bird shot into the back of his neck, killing him instantly. Three men have been arrested for complicity in the crime and have been placed in the Live Oak jail to save certain lynching in their home county. One of the men has confessed, and claims that all three belong to a "Before Day Club" whose purpose was to commit murder and robbery of the whites. Mr. Eppes was the present democratic nominee for county superintendent; was a man 60 years of age, and belonged to one of the best families in middle Florida. He was a great-grandson of Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence and third president of the United States.

BETTER THAN A PLASTER
A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on the affected parts, is better than a plaster for a lame back and for pains in the side or chest. Pain Balm has no superior as a liniment for the relief of deep seated, muscular and rheumatic pains. For sale by Ackerman & Stewart.

WORLD NEWS.

The record for the Louisiana Purchase exposition attendance was broken on Monday when 207,644 persons passed through the gates.

In a fight between two farmers in a beer dispensary at Greenville, S. C., last Monday, Lou Ward bit off the nose of John Collins—and spat it out.

The Japanese army forced the evacuation of Liao-Yang last week and during the present week has been chasing the army of Russia on to Mukden, firing into the rear of the retreating army. The dispatches of yesterday state that a battle was raging around Mukden, while other dispatches stated that the Russians had not occupied that city but were fleeing on beyond. The Russian losses at Liao Yang were upwards of 20,000. The Japanese losses had not been computed, though it is thought that, being the aggressors, they are much heavier than the Russians.

Seven hundred and eighty-six years ago, so the records run, the order of Knights Templar was founded. For nearly ninety years the grand encampment, the governing body of the order in America, has met in its annual session, this year assembling in the city of San Francisco during the present week. This order, a branch of Masonry, is not only one of the oldest in the world, but it has preserved through the centuries a high personnel, so that the great gathering in San Francisco will be made up of a fine representative body of men. About twenty five thousand Knights are present, coming on many special trains from all quarters of the country. They represent forty-three grand jurisdictions, each jurisdiction usually comprising a state. The total membership is, in round numbers 150,000.

In the vicinity of Manassas, Va., this week there are five thousand regular and twenty-one thousand state troops, forming the largest military camp ever established in this country in time of peace. But it was not intended that this large body of men shall be merely a display. The encampment and maneuvers are arranged by the government to provide for the hardest and most necessary kind of work known in the education of the soldier—the getting out into the field and there putting into practice the theories of the classroom under the simulated conditions of actual war. For two weeks the regular troops will have the opportunity of acting together in bodies larger than the companies and battalion of the army posts; the officers will be bestowed an opportunity to handle the larger bodies.

Wedding Announcement.

The Detroit Free Press of Sunday, Sept. 5, contained the following announcement:

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph M. Marion, of 205 Iroquois avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Evangeline, to Mr. John Tracy Griffin, of Palatka, Florida.

Miss Marion will be remembered as one of the most charming of Palatka's young lady visitors last winter, and who was a guest during the season at the Hotel Saratoga. During her stay in the city, Miss Marion entered largely into the social life of the place and was everywhere admired for her gracious personality as well as many accomplishments.

Mr. Griffin is well known as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Griffin, and is one of Palatka's most prominent young men. He will be heartily congratulated, upon the announcement of this engagement, by his numerous friends in the city and state.

It is understood that the wedding will take place in the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul, Detroit, on Thursday October 20th, and that the officiating clergyman will be Rev. Father Schappaman, S. J., former rector of Detroit College, and in his boyhood days a schoolmate of Mr. Martin Griffin.

Latest From The Front.

The Palatka News' special war correspondent with the Russian army sends the following from the seat of war:

MURDENSKY. Sept. 8.—Gen. Kuroshin has no say in the Russian railway is open as far as St. Petersburg.

The Cossacks and other mounted troops are greatly envied by the Russian infantrymen. Their superiority has been shown in every retreat.

Twenty-four carloads of vodka (Russian brandy) were received here yesterday. This war is certainly to stagger humanity.

Foreign military attaches see in the formation of the Russian balloon corps a turn in the tide of war.

"It is just exactly what Russia needed," said Col. E. Butlin, the famous French strategist.

"Gen. Kuroshin's plans have been in the air for some time," he replied.

The latest dispatches received from St. Petersburg say the Russians go wild every time the czar appears. I may add that they also go wild whenever the Japs appear.

It is reported that heavy firing was heard in St. Petersburg last night. The czar was blowing up Kuroshin.

Gen. Kokoa of the Japanese engineering corps has established a poultry farm near Kohld-Tung, on the road from Sin Kow to Pookambienky.

"Of what value can a poultry farm be to an army?" I asked Gen. Hoho, chief of staff.

"Even the Japanese hens lay mines," he replied.

IN PRAISE OF CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind."
